Thesis/Project or Dissertation Prospectus Approval Form

The David O. McKay School of Education and the Department are concerned about quality in theses/projects and dissertations, as well as all aspects of your graduate work. The faculty should provide you with high quality instruction and guidance. You, in turn, are expected to do your very best work. This is especially true in the culminating experiences associated with your dissertation or thesis/project. This form is intended to help ensure that your prospectus is given the attention it deserves. You should not proceed beyond the development of the prospectus into carrying out the work proposed until you have a signed copy of the Prospectus Approval Form. The signature of the Department Chair makes the approval official. Proceeding before he has signed the Prospectus Approval Form may lead to complications and delays in the completion of your work.
